SPRING AND FIRST STREETS.

In a very short time our

New Fall Goods

Will be arriving and no time must be lost in getting ready for them. Room is more desirable than the Goods, and all along the line the word is given,

GET READY!

Every Department must be ready to receive its quota of new goods. This will no doubt be the most active fall's business this city has ever experienced, and we are now preparing to receive our full share. Our new basement will be ready by September 10th. We take possession the 1st. New floors will be laid and it will be shelved and countered in the most complete manner. This room will be filled with Job Lots, Auction Goods, Odds and Ends and Remnants of all kinds and will be used as the GREAT ADVERTISING MEDIUM for our business. Our main floor will be bettered by the additional room. Desirable goods only will be found on sale in our main room, and in our basement price will be no object. It is made to draw the crowd, and is through the house larger quantities of goods can be used and this will give us the additional advantage of bringing in larger quantities and at much lower prices.

Take advantage now of the universal low prices that prevail all through the house. We are making preparation for

FALL BUSINESS.

Watch for the opening of our

Big Basement Salesrooms.

WE HAVE MARKED DOWN—
And will continue to mark down all goods in our several stores, and you may come to our great mark-down sale next week and expect to find goods extraordinary cheap.

WE HAVE MARKED DOWN GOODS—
Because we want to force trade. We have marked down goods because we want you to buy even if your wants are filled. We have marked down goods because we want you to buy, not because you need anything, but because you can't resist the price.

We may not be ready for our great mark-down sale before Tuesday, as we wish to personally mark down each and every article, see the torch applied to the old prices and the new price affixed to every piece.

AMERICAN FRUIT EVAPORATOR!

The most practical and reliable Fruit Evaporator made. It gives unobstructed hot air currents ABOVE and BELOW all fruit, thus insuring evenness of drying and no spoiled fruit. Beware of infringements. THE AMERICAN is pre-eminently the fruit-raisers' machine. Its sizes grade from domestic to manufacturing wants. It makes the highest quality of work with ordinary care in handling. There is no need of making anything else. Though we approve a slight use of sulphur, the AMERICAN is specially adapted for highest grade in unbleached work. It places fresh cut fruit first in highest and dryest heat; cures cut surfaces at once and keeps them dry, thereby setting and making permanent the color, and also thereby, as in broiling steaks, securing the highest quality in product. We also guarantee economy in fuel and exporting as the direct proceed of our customers. In some cases this gratuitous service is of more value than prices paid us for evaporators. Sold by

CATARRH!

And Consumption are Caused by Atmospheric Germs, Which Develop into Parasites. These Diseases are

DR. N. H. DAVIS, M. D., M. C. P. S. O.

Graduate of "Chicago Homeopathic College," Chicago, and "College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, Canada," HOMEOPATHIC SPECIALIST of Diseases of Ear, Nose, Throat, Chest, and all Chronic Blood.

CATARRH

is caused by the presence of parasites, microscopic germs in size, in the mucous membranes. The germs are deposited from the air and become readily developed and increase from rapidity in systems debilitated from acute, as in scrofulous subjects and in those suffering from a hypersemic or torpid liver, which causes the blood to become impoverished.

The catarrh is first located in the anterior part of the nose and the patient seems to have cold in the head, from which he is scarcely ever free. This gradually extends to the throat, and mucous is expelled, especially in the morning, from the throat, but in rare cases there is no discharge, a dry sensation in the nostrils alone being present.

In time the mucous membranes become inflamed, so that respiration through the nose is difficult or impossible, then the germs are deposited directly into the throat and head. The stage of the disease will be noticed by a hacking cough or simply a disposition to clear the throat. Sometimes the nose will be dormant for years until such time as the lungs become in a fit condition for their development. This condition may be the result of a severe cold or any debilitating cause, when the germ is able to manipulate its kind. Then colds do not pass off as other colds have done and we have a case of Bronchitis or Catarrh of the Lungs, which is often mistaken for consumption and by poor judgment that disease if not arrested.

Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma AND CONSUMPTION,

Together with the Eye, Ear and Heart; Also All Chronic Diseases, and Particularly Those Incidental to Females, Successfully Treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D.,

M. C. P. S. O.

Graduate of Victoria College, Toronto, Ontario; Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario; for three years Associate Physician of the Chicago and Cincinnati Throat and Lung Institutes; for fifteen years, and still, proprietor of the Detroit Throat and Lung Institute; also Licentiate Physician in and for the State of Michigan, and for several years Proprietor of the Ontario Pulmonary Institute and Health Resort at Toronto, Ontario. Over 60,000 cases treated by us during the past nineteen years.

In order to show how successfully lung disease can be cured when properly treated, we give the testimonial of one who is well and favorably known by many of the people of Los Angeles. From Rev. L. R. Fiske, D. D., President Albion College, Albion, Mich., formerly pastor of Central M. E. Church, Detroit, Mich., and editor of the Christian Advocate.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 22, 1877.

DR. WILLIAMS—Dear Sir: I am glad to add my testimony to the efficacy of the treatment my son has received. In the Spring of 1877, my son, then at the age of 22, was suffering from a severe affection of the bronchial tubes and lungs, so as to be compelled to keep his room, and the most of the time his bed. Within the space of two weeks he experienced the most profuse hemorrhage, from which the ordinary remedies afforded but temporary relief. I applied to you who applied him with inhaling medicines, which effected an immediate arrest of the bleeding, and which has never occurred since he began the inhalations.

Respectfully, L. R. FISKE.

CONSULTATION FREE—Those who desire to consult with us in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, may write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

The Times.

"For the bonds, yes" (very loud).

THE workingmen did themselves great honor by voting for bonds for public improvements.

THE wanton and uncalled for attack of a partisan Democratic paper upon the City Council was properly rebuked by four to one.

WITHOUT wishing to add to the sorrows of the afflicted, we would venture to ask if the Herald has heard from the polls on the bond question?

THE justification of the vote for bonds to the amount of a quarter of a million of dollars for public improvements, will be found in a careful, judicious and honest expenditure of the money.

AND now El Mandi's followers and successors have promulgated a rebellion in Khartoum, sacked the treasury and played smash generally. England will get that country yet.

AS THE bonds were carried by more than four to one, the influence of those journals that opposed their issue, or gave but a lukewarm support, may be measured by the inverse ratio, which leaves them short by a large majority.

TWELVE volumes of the census of 1880 are published, and twelve more are yet to come. The work progresses very slowly, and there is great dissatisfaction among the subscribers, who want to get to the end of the continued story.

HARRY N. MORSE, the famous California detective, has turned editor, and the first number of his paper, "Morse's Merchant's Patrol," has reached our table. It is a notable sheet, filled with matter of the peculiar class to be expected from such a source. One feature of the paper is an original "detective" story in each number.

AFTER nearly a year's absence at his old stamping-ground in Ohio, Andy W. Francisco (formerly of the TIMES and MIRROR), has returned to Los Angeles and rejoined his family, at their beautiful home on Ninth street. Mr. Francisco reports great business depression all through the East, and is mighty glad to get back to the g. c. of C., where he is much welcome.

THE Anaheim Gazette has an eye to the picturesque. It says: "Yumawards the wave of civilization takes its way. In solemn conclave assembled, the Yuma Indians have resolved to discard the sapeis, otherwise known as the breech-cloth, and substitute pantaloons. This innovation will result in making the Indians look more civilized, but it will be at the expense of picturesqueness." We suspect that this will be a case where the custom of dispensing with the G-string will be more honored in the breeches than in the observance.

GEORGE W. CARLETON asks by the card, and this is what he says: "Nine dollars out of every ten spent for party prohibition in this country comes from Democratic coffers. When I was editor of the American Prohibitionist I was placed in a position to know this. A vast deal of temperance literature and prohibition tickets were sent out from my office, paid for by the Democratic State Central Committee in checks signed by their Chairman and Secretary, and payable at Reinhardt's Bank at Columbus" (Ohio.)

A PAPER on this coast says that the prettiest little scheme yet devised for land-grabbing is this: A man and his wife separate, and after getting a divorce they go to a favorable locality and take up adjoining claims. Having complied with all the legal requirements and secured clean titles, they become reconciled, remarry and settle down on a double homestead. "This seems to be regarded as a reflection on the looseness of the United States land laws, but what kind of commentary is it on our divorce laws, that such operations are possible?" asks the Alta California.

THE magnificent strides made by the city of Chicago in the increase of her tax-roll are exhibited by the latest assessment, which shows that the total value of taxable property in Illinois, outside of Cook county, last year was $605,250,611. In Cook county the valuation last year was $141,296,890. This year the valuation in the State, outside of Cook county, is $588,224,804, and the valuation in Cook county is $145,309,147. Decrease in valuation in the counties outside of Cook, $17,025,817. Increase of valuation of property in Cook county, $4,012,257.

THAT eloquent old statesman, Richard W. Thompson, of Indiana, delivered one of his characteristic addresses at the Grant memorial services in Terre Haute, on the 8th inst. Mr. Thompson is now seventy-six years old, and yet he retains wonderfully the energy and fire of earlier days. He was first elected to Congress as a Whig forty-four years ago, and is one of the oldest living of a group of statesmen of that period who held a large and honored place in the public mind, and it is just to say that age and gray hairs have added to his honors.

IT has been carefully estimated by a group of local Democrats given to "figgering" that one or two more editorials against the bonds by our morning contemporary would have made the affirmative vote practically unanimous. The TIMES is, however, reluctantly constrained by the pressure of historic truth, which the late Napoleon declared to be no less sacred than religion, to pronounce judgment adverse to these Democratic men and brethren. Our opinion is that it wouldn't have made "no difference nohow" how many editorials the aforesaid disgruntled contemporary printed on the subject, the result would have been just the same.

A Few Errors Corrected.

A little excitement was caused on the Santa Monica train, by a lady tainting. An Express reporter ascertained her name to be Mrs. Peter Carson, who lives in East Los Angeles. She had been weakened by staying too long in the surf.—Evening Express, Aug. 17.

Peter Corson, the husband of the lady referred to, called to correct a few inaccuracies in the above item. The lady's name is not Carson, but Corson. She does not live in East Los Angeles. She had not been near the surf that day. Having been ill for some time, her slight sickness in the cars was caused by weakness, and she did not really faint away.

WASHINGTON.

The South American Trade Question.

REPORT FROM THE COMMISSION.

Our Grandest Trade Opportunities Neglected—The Government After Ex-Commissioner Loring.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Commissioners appointed to visit the Central and South American States in the interest of more intimate national and commercial relations between those countries and the United States have submitted a report to the Department of State of their work in Uruguay and the Argentine Republic. At both Buenos Ayres and Montevideo the Commission sought from commercial communities information concerning the present condition of commerce and suggestions as to the best means of promoting trade with the United States, the result of which will be submitted with the report to the President. The report to the President is in preparation. The report in part says that the share of the United States in the enormous commerce of the River Platte country, which includes Paraguay, Uruguay and the Argentine Republic, is lamentably insufficient, and less than it was half a century ago. The reason is very apparent. Twenty-one lines of steamships connect these ports with those of Europe, while there is no regular steamship communication whatever with our country. From forty to sixty steamers arrive at Buenos Ayres every month, and not one from the United States. The few products of our fields and factories found there are brought sometimes in chartered vessels, but more frequently come by way of Europe. Merchants with one voice, say that, because of the absence of steam communication, they can afford to buy in the United States only such articles as cannot be obtained elsewhere. The presentation of a communication to the President of Uruguay was made the subject of a great deal of ceremony and military display, it being the desire of the government as well as the people to testify in this manner to their admiration for the "Grand Republic," as the United States is universally acknowledged to be. The President of Uruguay and his ministers, after expressing with great ardor their admiration for the United States, their efforts to imitate our government in all things and their desire for closer relations, accepted, without discussion, each and all of the propositions submitted by the Commission, except that which relates to a reciprocal treaty with the United States. To this they would have readily assented also if the commission had felt justified in encouraging them to expect that the Congress of the United States would consent to a reduction or a removal of the duty on wool, that being the chief product of Uruguay and the only article imported to the United States which is taxed under our tariff. With regard to the proposed common coin and international Congress they were quite enthusiastic. The Government of Uruguay, they said, was not in such a financial condition as to give pecuniary aid to the establishment of a steamship line between its ports and the United States, but very earnestly hoped that something might be done in this direction and would be glad to afford steamers special privileges in the matter of harbor duties, etc. The presentation of the communication to the President of the Argentine Republic was, at the President's request, attended with such formality as was consistent with the diplomatic rank and usage, and the usual complimentary addresses were exchanged. "The formal topics for consideration at our conference with President Roca and his government," the report continues, "were all cordially approved by them. Nowhere has the Commission met with more genuine cordiality, and nowhere has a desire for closer political and commercial relations with the United States been so apparent as in the Argentine Republic. That country aspires to be to South America what our country is to the Northern continent, and is making very rapid strides toward such a position. The President earnestly desired more intimate commercial relations with the United States, but said it was useless to expect trade without transportation facilities. The Argentine government was willing to do as much as the United States in giving financial aid to a steamship company that would sail vessels between the ports of the two countries, and he hoped Congress would do something at once to make the markets of the United States accessible to Argentine importers.

ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Chief Clerk John T. Wodale, of the War Department, will act as Secretary of War during the absence of Secretary Endicott. The Secretary will be absent from Washington till October 1st.

OBJECTING AFTER THE EX-COMMISSIONER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—First Comptroller Durham has written a letter to Mr. Loring, ex-Commissioner of Agriculture, in which he says the latter is in error in supposing that any of the rejected accounts are for machinery or experiments. He explains that the claims disallowed amount to about $200,000, and were solely for expenditures for seed and labor. He concludes his letter by saying that, unless Loring has some further statement to make, he shall proceed in the case under due process of law.

DECLINED OFFER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Acting Postmaster General Stevenson to-day declined a proposition by the American District Telegraph Company, of Philadelphia to take charge of the immediate delivery system of that city, on the ground that the law contemplates the maintenance by the department of its own delivery systems.

MORE CIVIL SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Commissioner Thomas, of the Civil Service Commission, thinks that the messengers to be selected for the delivery of special tenscent stamp letters, will be appointed under the civil service law.

The Iron Trade Looking Up.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 17.—The outlook in the iron trade has not been more favorable for a number of years than at present. Signs of improvement are coming to the surface every day, and manufacturers are beginning to concede that the depression is gradually disappearing. Orders are increasing rapidly, and many mills are running double time. The worst feature is the existing strike among nailers, which, from present indications, does not look as if an amicable settlement of the difficulty is near at hand. Manufacturers have decided to ignore the nailers until they accept their terms, while the nailers still present a determined front in their demand for last year's scale.

San Luis Obispo.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Aug. 17.—The Sumner flour mills, two miles from town, were consumed by fire yesterday; loss about $5,000; no insurance. The fire occurred at 3 a. m., and is supposed to be incendiary.

Dr. J. F. Mocklar, a former resident of San Francisco, later here, and now of San Miguel, shot one Fred Kuntz, yesterday, in a drunken brawl. The shot took effect in the wrist, arm and abdomen.

The past few days have been very warm, the thermometer ranging from eighty-six in the shade, down.

Store Robbed.

NEVADA, Cal., Aug. 17.—The store of W. H. Brandon, at Omega, this county, was broken into by burglars, Saturday night, and $400 stolen. Entrance was gained by digging through a brick wall in the rear of the store. Tracks were discovered heading from the building to the Chinese quarter, and it is thought that the crime was committed by Mongolians.

The Fastest Freight Time.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 17.—A train bearing the first installment of tea shipped by the Northern Pacific road from Tacoma on the 8th, reached New York to-day at noon, making the run, 3378 miles, in eight days and four hours, being the fastest time ever made by a freight train from ocean to ocean.

A Good Shaking up at Guaymas.

GUAYMAS, MEX., Aug. 17.—Saturday night at 7:35 Guaymas was visited by a severe earthquake. There were five distinct vibrations from north to south. For several days past the weather has been insufferably hot. No damage was done, but all were well scared.

The Prindle Jury Failed to Agree.

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 17.—The jury in the Prindle murder case was unable, after four days, to agree on a verdict, and has been discharged. The case will be set for its second trial Wednesday next.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

They Order a Strike on the Wabash Railway.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—Last Friday there came to this city four members of the General Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor. The mission of these gentlemen was to have a conference with Colonel Talmage, General Manager of the Wabash Railway, in regard to the relations existing between members of the Knights of Labor and the railroad company, which are said to be in quite a disturbed condition. Talmage being out of the city, the gentleman was telegraphed, requesting him to state when and where a conference could be had. To this Talmage replied that he saw no reason why he should meet the committee for the purpose named; that he was not aware of any dissatisfaction existing among the employes of the road, and he declined to confer with the committee. As an apparent outcome of this, there was promulgated at Moberly, Mo., where the Wabash Railway has extensive shops, an official order commanding all Knights of Labor of the Wabash system at all points to quit work Tuesday, August 15th at 12 o'clock noon, and remain out till further orders from the General Executive Board. The order is signed by Frederick Turner, Secretary of the Board. The order has created quite a sensation in Moberly, and the strike ordered is looked upon as one of the most serious for many years.

LAYING PIPES FOR THE STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—The publicity of the order to-day commanding a strike to-morrow by all Knights of Labor employed on the Wabash railroad, seems to have been premature, for the General Executive Committee is late to-night acknowledging the authenticity of the order, and said that a strike would surely take place to-morrow. An order has been sent to Fort Wayne, Andrew and Peru, Indiana; Decatur and Springfield, Illinois; Moberly and Shanberry, Missouri; Toledo, Ohio; Council Bluffs, Iowa, and St. Louis. The Committee claim that they have got the shops at the above named places sure, and claim to have the yards and train men, but are in great doubt about the engineers and firemen. They admit that the movement is an experiment, but express confidence in being able practically to suspend operations on the road, and the general committee will remain in this city and conduct the strike from this point. There are various rumors and statements to the effect that the men on the Missouri Pacific system will join in the movement, but those are denied by the committee and others, who say that the Wabash alone is involved.

THE CHOLERA.

Continued Mortality in Spain—Diminished in France.

DETAILED REPORT FROM SPAIN.

MADRID, Aug. 17.—Places in Spain in which the principal increase of cholera occurred yesterday as compared with Friday last were Tarragona and Valladolid. In the former case there were yesterday 77 cases and 30 deaths.

Official returns show that in Granada the disease has reached its height and remains stationary.

In Alicante yesterday there were 28 new cases and 23 deaths.

In Castillon de la Plana, 22 new cases and 7 deaths.

In Cuenca, 154 new cases and 32 deaths.

In Terval, 116 new cases and 32 deaths.

In Valencia, 86 cases and 49 deaths.

In Madrid, 26 new cases and 3 deaths.

All of these returns show a decrease in the number of new cases and deaths.

IN FRANCE.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 17.—There have been 109 deaths from cholera in this city since Friday.

MAXWELL.

The St. Louis Murderer Procures Counsel and Sets out to Write for the Papers.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—Very little of general interest has developed in the Maxwell case to-day. He had a number of callers during the day. The police authorities restricted the permits and allowed but few persons to see him. The chief event of the day was the retaining of John I. Martin by Maxwell, as counsel, who says when formal action is taken against his client, he will not waive preliminary examination. Maxwell is still in the police "holdover" and it has not transpired, when he will be turned over to the sheriff. His attorney has given him permission to write for a newspaper, and, in all likilhood, he will begin business at once and thus derive a little revenue. He claims to have $6000 invested in English funds, and expects to arrange for a transfer of some of it here, but just now he is without a dollar and wholly dependent upon police authorities for everything he requires.

A Cowboys' Fight.

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 17.—A special to the Eagle from Fort Reno says: News has been received of a desperate fight between a number of cowboys connected with the ranch of Frank Murray, thirty-five miles southwest in the Chickasaw Nation. A party of twenty-five Lorings rode up to the ranch and fired about one hundred shots at the boys inside the ranch cabin, which they had built and had a quarrel over stock. The boys inside, being well armed, returned the fire with deadly effect, killing Dick Covart and seriously wounding Dick Jones and Bob Woods of the attacking party. This makes four, who have been killed over the trouble at this ranch since April. Covart, who was killed, also Jones and Woods have been notorious characters in the Territory.

Geronimo's Band Broken Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—The Call's Fort Bowie special says: Captain Davis, of the Fourth Cavalry, reports that Lieutenant Day and Sergeant Clum, in camp on the northeast Nakari, August 7th, killed three bucks, a squaw and Geronimo boy, aged thirteen. He captured fifteen women and children, among them three wives and five children of Geronimo. Geronimo was wounded. Besides him there were two under bucks and one squaw escaped. Everything in camp was captured. On the 29th ult. Lieutenant Day ambushed a party of four Chiricahuas, killed two and captured all horses and supplies.

An Illicit Trade.

ROME, Aug. 17.—Ten arrests have been made of members of a criminal society, which has been operating in Rome, Naples and Sicily. In search of the house of a member of the society, a former government official, revealed the fact that correspondence had been carried on with

On Board an Atlantic Coast Steamer.

AN EXPLOSION DISMANTLES THE VESSEL

Thought to be Caused by a Dynamite Cartridge Under the Boiler—Sixteen People Hurt.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17.—An explosion on the steamer T. W. Fulton occurred yesterday, just after she had left her dock at Philadelphia on her trip to Wilmington, Del. As she was opposite pier No. 8, south wharves, the passengers and crew were startled by an explosion which shook the boat from stem to stern. When the smoke cleared away it was found that the entire forward part of the vessel above the water level had been badly damaged and a number of passengers injured, some severely. The pilot house and the entire upper deck presented a mass of complete wreck. Boats proceeded at once to the injured vessel, and with the assistance of the police boat Stockly, which was lying near by, at once proceeded to relieve the injured. An ambulance from the hospital soon arrived and took most of the injured to that institution. The injured, so far as known, are: John E. McDunn, aged 9 years, severely injured about the legs; Silas Reed, badly scalded; Bessie Bradley, ankle dislocated; Samuel Cooper, injured about the head and body. The steamer is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

THE INJURED.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17.—The list of wounded numbers sixteen. Edward Young, of Wilmington, Del., fireman of the Fulton, was injured about the head and face. Geo. L. Wilson, engineer, was standing on the wharf when the explosion occurred, and was thrown backward over a bench and sustained injuries of the right wrist. The passengers were mostly women, taking their ladies out for a fresh air trip on the river. Their escape is accounted for by the providential fact that but few were in the forward part of the steamer.

Edward Young, fireman, says that when the explosion occurred he was carrying only thirty-five pounds of steam to the square inch. Andrew Linker said to-day that he inspected the boiler last May, and found it in good condition. The iron was tested. It is stamped 50,000 p

TUESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1885.

Four to One—And More Too.

The above figures give a comparative idea of the result of yesterday's special election held to decide the question of the city's issuing bonds to the amount of $245,000 to pay for needed municipal improvements. The bonds were carried by an overwhelming majority—more than four to one. It was a splendid victory for the cause of progress and improvement. Out of a total vote of 2000 (scant)—a small vote, as was predicted—the proposition received the large majority of 1339, being 287 more votes than the requisite two-thirds. The excess above and beyond the legal number required to carry the measure was well nigh equal to the total vote (378) against the bonds.

The meaning of this vote is unmistakable. It is, first, a popular declaration in favor of progress in the work of local improvement; second, a decision by the popular court (the voters and property-owners of to-day) that posterity shall of right lend a hand in paying for benefits conferred upon them by the wise and enterprising builders of this generation; and third, a popular rebuke of reckless and unjust assaults made upon a municipal body which, whatever its faults, has never before been accused of corruption, and could not, with any reason, have been accused, in the present instance, of a purpose to get control of the people's money for its own purposes, since the appropriations voted must be expended by a succeeding Council.

The result of the vote is a subject of public congratulation. The progressive element of Los Angeles is in the ascendant.

The Assessment Roll.

The County Auditor has finished his footings of the Assessor's books, and finds that the assessment roll for the county amounts this year to $32,813,543, against $34,051,026 last year, showing a decrease of $1,237,483. A morning contemporary, with its usual aptitude in guessing wrong, went out of its way some days ago in order to wring a compliment for the County Assessor, a political favorite, and stated that the increased assessment this year was to be $15,000,000 or more. The statement that excited only the hilarious derision of those who know anything of county affairs. It is within the knowledge of almost every one in this county that there has been a decided increase in the property value. How, then, can it be shown that the Assessor has done his duty by reducing the amount by over a million? If the Sacramento or other papers should charge that Los Angeles county has lost over one thirty-second of her property value in one year, it would be indignantly denied by every one here, because we know that it is not true. And yet the County Assessor has so returned the figures. They will not bear scrutiny, however. Is it not rather clear evidence of hasty and careless work? Be it understood that such a reduction of the assessed value will not reduce taxes, for it is a direct bid for the State Board of Equalization to raise the assessment from fifteen to twenty-five per cent.

THE mugwumps who made the complaint say: "We are still on the track of Postmaster Jones, of Indianapolis." This reminds the Chicago Inter-Ocean of the fellow who owned a great wolf dog, for which he had paid a big price and of which he made large boasts. He invited a party of friends to a grand hunt. The track of a wolf was soon struck and the hound opened out beautifully, and soon run out of sight of the hunters, who followed on to be in at the death of the wolf. Meeting an old woodsman, the owner of the animal inquired, "Have you seen anything of a dog and wolf on the road?" "Well, yes, mister, I did." "How were they making it?" "Well, mister, it seemed when I saw 'em as if it was nip and tuck—nip and tuck—but the hound was about three jumps ahead." And that is about the result of the mugwump hunt in Indiana." By the way, this anecdote applies pretty well to the pursuit of the City Council by the 'steamed Herald in the matter of the bonds. The Herald was not the wolf in this case.

GARFIELD condemned sectionalism. Grant condemned it. All patriotic citizens condemn it.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.).

The army of the Union fought to condemn it, and the Republican party has always condemned it and has demanded equal rights alike to all men of every section of the Union.—[Chicago Inter Ocean.

The old Democratic party was preeminently the sectional party. The Republican party, coming into power, wiped out sectionalism more nearly than it has ever been wiped out in this country; but the result of the last Presidential election, whereby a Democratic President was elected chiefly by the votes of the sectional South, was the beginning of a return to old-time sectionalism. The Democratic party is not a national party in the true and broad meaning of that term.

WHEN the administration finds that one of its hungry and "offensive" partisan appointees has turned out to be an incompetent and law-breaking officer, it does not denounce him as such, but sends a commission to investigate him, which commission reports that the derelict official has simply "misapprehended his duties." This is a new one in political nomenclature.

Mormon Infamy.

The Mormon church organs at Salt Lake City, it will be recollected, undertook to deny that they meant any disrespect to the United States by placing the flag at half-mast on the Fourth of July. They lied—"lied like a tombstone," and they knew it. They are trying the same hypocritical tactics since the death of General Grant,—in this case denying that they had any intention of insulting the memory of the Old Commander in refusing to lower their flags to half-mast when the news of his death was published; but the other papers in the small towns refuse to hide their hatred of the Government of the United States, and a correspondent at Panola, Utah, thus gives his reasons for the conduct of the people—and infamous reasons they are:

We had lost no Grant. Why should a Mormon mourn for the death of a Gentile? We are always happy to hear of the death of a Gentile—provided it be not one who buys carrots from us. Such a death as that hurts our pockets, consequently affects our hearts. To see the heavenly smiles our village people wore that day one would be led to suppose they belonged to the Millerites and were waiting for the second coming.

Another nail in the coffin of polygamy!

"How will you have them, baked, fried, boiled, pot-pie, or one of my stews?" These are the questions habitually asked of "the boys" of his party by that boy wound and good sportsman, Al. Cantrell, of Santa Barbara, when he finds himself a-field in pursuit of California valley quail. And the response from the hungry hunters always comes back: "Give us one of your stews." How he stews quail, Mr. Canfield describes as follows:

First, place the birds in a camp kettle and cover the same with cold water; place the kettle on a slow fire until the contents have boiled slowly ten minutes, then add to one dozen birds a lump of butter the size of a large hen's egg; as soon as melted stir thoroughly, then add two heaping handfuls of California olives and two onions, chopped fine; stir again and allow all to boil slowly ten minutes longer. Then add one pint of Sonoma white wine and one tablespoonful of Lea & Perrin's Worcestershire Sauce; then stir again, and add the least quantity of flour thickening. As soon as cooked add salt and pepper to taste. Additional good flavor may be obtained by the use of a sprinkling of fresh parsley, chopped fine, mixed into the stew just before removing from the fire. The stew should not be cooked longer than one-half hour.

Is not the contemplation of such a dainty dish enough to make us all wish for the coming of the quail season?

ONE of the reassuring signs of the times is that the iron trade is looking up. A dispatch from Pittsburg says that the outlook has not been more favorable for a number of years. Many of the mills of that city are running on double time. The Spartans once made iron their measure of values—their money. The modern world gives iron the scarcely less important office of the index of industry. As the iron trade goes so goes the prosperity of the country. Iron is first to feel a depression, and first to record a reaction. All hail to the favorable signs from Pittsburg!

A CONTEMPORARY points out that in this country there is a gradual decrease in the number of persons composing a family. In 1850 the number of persons to a family averaged 5 56-100, in 1860 it was 5 28-100, in 1870 the average had fallen to 5 9-100, and in 1880 it was 5 4-100. The above rate of decrease would make the present average five persons to a family. The obvious conclusion to be drawn from this array of social statistics is that this country is not "keeping up its lick" in the matter of producing people.

THE probability is that these are warm days for young January, the defaulting Deputy State Treasurer—a regular January thaw, so to speak. The youthful culprit is now dallying with the Superior Court of Sacramento. And if there is anything this side of sheol which is worse than everything else, it is to be in hot water at Sacramento about this time.

THE jury in the Prindle murder trial at Oakland, after being out four days, failed to agree. Next Wednesday the case is to be set for a new trial, and Oakland will have the delectation of wading through all of that slush again.

And well-filled flask the hopeful angler hies,

AN EVENTFUL LIFE.

Historical Reminiscences of Justice Stephen J. Field.

HIS EARLY LIFE IN CALIFORNIA.

An Incident of the Asiatic Cholera—His Literary Training and Plans for the Future—His Probable Successor.

[New York World Washington Correspondence.]

Justice Field will remain upon the Bench three years longer. He intends to retire when he has served twenty-five years upon the Bench. This will give President Cleveland an opportunity of filling his place with a Democrat. Undoubtedly Attorney General Garland will be selected if there is no earlier vacancy. Justice Field intends to devote the remainder of his life to literary work. Very few men who have lived eventful lives as public officials ever take the time or the trouble to sit down in the quiet of their libraries and record their observations. Washington to-day has a great many men who have abundant leisure to contribute, and a rich experience, with which to make contributions to the history of their time. None of them, however, have had a more eventful life than Justice Field. He was one of a family of five brothers, four of whom are now living and are prominently before the public. When the Justice was a young lad, thirteen years of age, he went to Smyrna with his sister, who married a missionary. He was in Smyrna for several years, and acquired during his stay there quite a knowledge of Oriental languages. He also learned to speak French. It was his idea when he went to the East to fit himself for a professorship of Oriental languages in some Eastern college. During his stay in the East he went with a Mr. and Mrs. Hill to the southern part of Greece for a visit. The Hills went from Connecticut to Greece for the purpose of establishing a school for the education of young ladies. This school became afterward a great success. In it have been educated all of the young ladies of the leading families of Greece. Several years ago Justice Field revisited the Eastern places where he had passed so much time in his boyhood. Although over fifty years had elapsed he found the Hills still living. Mrs. Hill died only the other day at the age of eighty-three. Mr. Hill, too, is now dead, but he lived to reach the age of ninety-two.

THE ASIATIC PLAGUE.

In his reminiscences of the past the Justice will describe the incidents of the terrible plague which he witnessed when he first lived in the East. He saw both the Asiatic cholera and the plague. Although he moved in the very midst of these two terrible epidemics, he escaped sickness. He acted as a nurse in attending a number of cholera patients. But in the plague he was able to do nothing. He says that dread disease is beyond human help or knowledge, so far as any present discoveries have reached. The touch of a man who has the real plague is sure contamination. Ninety per cent. of those who have the plague die. When he was taken every one flees from him. He is instantly deserted and left to fight with the most terrible of epidemics alone. His death is almost sure to follow within the twelve hours following. The Judge recalls a very dramatic scene which occurred at a dinner at which he was present during the early days of the epidemic. The guests were seated about a brilliantly lighted board. The social spirit among the guests was high. A toast was about to be drank. The guests, too, turned to pledge each other and saw one of the waiters who was waiting upon the table dead. Instantly they all cried, "The plague!" and in the briefest moment of time every one had fled, leaving the wine standing in the glasses, the toast undrank. No one entered that house for a year afterwards, and when they did, after employing in advance the most powerful disinfectants, they found there the dried and decayed remnants of the feast with the grinning skeleton of the servant who had waited upon them lying in his clothes just where he had fallen the night of the banquet.

EARLY LIFE IN CALIFORNIA.

After the Judge has finished his reminiscences of the East he will be able to recall some very interesting chapters of early life in California. He was one of the first to visit that country after the gold fever had broken out. He has been through all of the exciting periods in the growth of California into a State, and has had a number of very thrilling personal adventures. This grave and staid Judge, who appears so solemn and passionless in his silken gown upon the Supreme Court bench, when a young man in California carried the weapons of a duelist and asserted himself in the only way that a man could hold a footing among lawless men who had no respect for any man who could not prove his physical courage. The most interesting chapter of his California life was when he headed the Union movement and helped to hold California true to the government. It was doubtless owing to his prominence in this that caused Mr. Lincoln to appoint him to the Supreme Court bench.

HISTORICAL INCIDENTS.

The record of his twenty-five years of life as a Judge in Washington covers one of the most interesting periods in our history. He has talked with all the leading heroes of the war and has preserved from their stories many historical incidents. His own part in the Supreme Court has been an important one. Some of its most valuable decisions have been made during the last quarter of a century. Justice Field has a fondness for writing. His literary training and his wide experience must combine to make them readable books. He hopes to secure before he retires from the bench an increase in the number of Justices of the Court and of the Circuit Court Judges. He believes in raising the number of the Justices to fourteen, with a quorum requiring only six. He says that the present administration of Justice in the Federal and State Courts amounts to a practical denial of justice. The Judges are all overworked, and have more than they can do. He has already talked with the President upon the subject, and has asked him to recommend such legislation to Congress. If such a measure could be passed during Mr. Cleveland's time it would still leave the Supreme Court under the control of the Republicans. Eight out the nine Justices are now Republicans. The President observed in his conversation with the Justice upon the subject that such a bill would probably affect his Cabinet. This was a plain intimation that there were one or two candidates in his Cabinet for the next vacancies upon the Supreme Court Bench. Mr. Garland's wishes in this matter are well understood. It is now said that Mr. Bayard also would like to retire at some future time from the Cabinet to secure a position upon the Supreme Court Bench. He has hardly enough reputation as a lawyer to justify any such appointment. It is understood that the Republican Senate will oppose any attempt to increase the Supreme Court Justices during Mr. Cleveland's term. It is a matter, however, which will be very warmly pressed. The Democrats are specially anxious to secure representation upon the Bench of the Federal Courts throughout the country. T. C. CRAWFORD.

THE "DAISY"
Steam Fruit Canner.
FOR FAMILY USE.
Cans in the Jars.
Simple and Easy to Operate.
No Excessive Heat.
No Broken Jars.
No Spoiled Fruit.

DESCRIPTION.
This apparatus consists of a steam generator, heated by a double coal oil burner, from which a steam jet is forced through a flexible pipe into the fruit to be canned. It is made in two sizes, each neatly japanned, finished in Russia iron, and furnished with a handle, by which it may be easily carried from place to place.
This apparatus is adapted for preserving all kinds of fruits and vegetables in glass or earthenware jars, or tin cans.
ADVANTAGES OF USING THIS APPARATUS.
No jars are broken. The heat is all utilized in the canning process, and none escapes to the discomfort of the operator. By the direct application of the hot steam, the fruit is cooked in the quickest possible time and the most thorough manner. Owing to the thorough preparation of the fruit there is no loss from fermentation. Being cooked directly in the jar the natural appearance and flavor of the fruit is fully retained. A pint of fruit cooked in three minutes.

BONDS IT 18!

Yesterday's Waterloo for the Old Fogies and the Herald

THE VOTE OVER FOUR TO ONE FOR BONDS.

The Progressive and Public Spirited Element on Top—"Bonds, Yes," 1617; "Bonds, No," 378.

Monday, August 17th, has come and gone; and its sunset saw scored a glorious victory for the progressive element of Los Angeles. The question of voting to issue bonds for municipal improvements to the sum of $245,000 had been fully explained and only submitted to the citizens by Council; and the answer startled even the most sanguine friends of the bonds. The popular verdict in favor of the proposed improvements and the proposed method of securing such improvements, was given with no dubious tone. It was outspoken, emphatic, overwhelming. The few egotistic Rip Van Winkles who opposed this as all other steps of progress, had their breath taken away.

The polls opened with early morning, and polling went on quietly all day. It was not expected to get out a heavy vote, so many voters are out of town at the various seaside, mountain or spring resorts. Had all these resorters been at home, the majority in favor of the bonds would have been even more overwhelming, for they are largely of the class which voted almost without exception for the bonds. The vote was a good one to be called out on a non-political occasion.

At sunset the polls were closed, and counting began. It was already well known, however, which way the election had gone, and the figures were awaited merely as showing the exact size of the majority for the bonds. By 8:45 the last ballots had been counted.

THE RESULT OF THE VOTE.

Following is the result by wards, the tickets being cast "Bonds, yes;" "Bonds, no."

Ward.	Yes.	No.
First	280	67
Second	427	108
Third	437	91
Fourth	308	67
Fifth	165	45
Totals	1617	378
Total vote cast	1995
Necessary to carry bonds (two-thirds)	1330
Excess over two-thirds in favor	287
Majority in favor of bonds	1239

The proportion of citizens in favor of the bonds is therefore shown to be between 4¼ and 4½ to every one against them.

TRAGEDY AT SANTA MONICA.

Death of Daniel T. Mooney by His Own Pistol.

A tragedy, which the Coroner's inquest puts down as accidental, took place near Santa Monica at about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Daniel T. Mooney, of this city, and also of the Mooney Mansion, Santa Monica, had started from the latter place to drive with his wife to this city. About a mile and a half this side of Santa Monica a 38-caliber Colt's six-shooter was discharged behind Mr. Mooney's back, the ball entered his heart, and instantaneous death resulted. Mrs. Mooney's statement is that he was sitting on the front seat of the carriage and she on the back seat. The revolver was in his pocket, where it inconveniences him, and he took it out and passed it back to her, saying: "Here, Mollie, take this." She was arranging her skirts, and before she could rise and take the revolver the wheel went into a chuck-hole, the pistol fell and was discharged. Mooney sank forward. She threw her arm around his neck and said, "Dan, are you hurt?" He said only, "Oh, Mollie!" and never spoke more. The horses began to run, and she, unable to stop them with one hand, she caught the lines and directed the team with the other. Meeting W. R. Wren on the way, she got him to drive her back to Santa Monica. She did not know that her husband was dead until they reached the house. This is her story, and her evidence before the coroner's jury. Coroner McFarland went down at once and held an inquest in the afternoon. The next witness after Mrs. Mooney was W. R. Wren, who testified that while out riding with his son he met Mrs. Mooney about and one-quarter miles from Santa Monica. She was holding her husband with one hand and driving with the other. Mooney was down between the seat and the dashboard. He appeared to witness to be dead. At Mrs. Mooney's request, witness drove her to Santa Monica. He didn't see the pistol in the carriage.

Walter Wren corroborated his father's evidence.

J. F. H. Brown testified that when the team got back to his house he went out and found Mooney dead. Said son and Mrs. Mooney cried "Oh, God!" They had been married about eight years, and so far as witness knew Mooney was a very devoted husband. Never knew of any trouble between them.

Dr. E. C. Folsom described the wound and the revolver.

After examining these witnesses, and without a post-mortem examination, the jury returned the following verdict: That Daniel T. Mooney, 41 years of age, a native of Maine, came to his death August 17, 1885, by reason of accidental shooting in back; the bullet entering the back on the left side, 2½ inches below the scapula and entering the heart, a pistol having dropped from his own hand. The jury was as follows: J. W. Scott, G. B. Adams, Guy C. Manville, H. L. Dosson, E. Peterson, C. M. Bennett.

Mrs. Mooney is generally deemed a very handsome woman. Her maiden name was Mary A. Green. Neither she nor her husband have enjoyed a strictly first-class reputation.

The Circus Next Week.

The great circus arrives here Wednesday and Thursday of next week. It is one of the finest shows that has ever crossed the country, and is well worth seeing by everybody. Among the great attractions are a complete circus troupe of Arabian artists, a royal Japanese circus, a number of brilliant star artists, a perfect menagerie, the only living coal black tigers, the monster performing elephant, Xerxes, droves of other elephants, etc. Go to the great show.

At Long Beach.

The heated term, together with the attractions of the meetings, draw a large number of people to Long Beach.

Yesterday was Education Day of the convention week. Rev. E. S. Chase and Rev. Bunker were the speakers of the afternoon, handling the assigned topics of Christian education with thought and correctness. Revs. Bresee and Boward were the speakers of the evening.

The camp-meting commenced on Thursday.

A Fine Bouquet.

The TIMES is indebted to Adolph Strauss, the florist, for an exquisite bouquet left at the sanctum last evening. The great variety and rare kinds of flowers embodied in the bouquet betoken a taste and a thoroughness in his calling, which account for young Strauss' almost phenomenal success. May he long live to help make the world more beautiful.

Los Angeles Soda.

The TIMES acknowledges the receipt, yesterday, of a choice assortment of soda water, ginger ale, etc., from the Los Angeles Soda Works, Sansevain street. The "cream soda" was particularly fine and the other beverages were just right for hot weather.

Quick Work.

The buildings of the Sierra Madre Vintage Company (Crank and Brigdon), which were commenced two weeks ago, with the promise of being completed in a month, are already done; that is, so far as external appearances go. It may be necessary to supply some of the inside work, and a coat of paint or two will doubtless be forthcoming. But there is no doubt that the winery will be in perfect readiness for this year's vintage. The buildings are of frame, and the larger—probably designed for the crushers and the fermenting vats—is built in the form of a cross. This winery will, no doubt, work up a large share of the foothills grapes of the county, and there is good reason to hope that a superior wine may be the outcome.

WHOA, EMMA!

Miseries of a Party Who Sailed in a Tub.

The TIMES has noted the misfortunes of the party which left San Pedro for Catalina, a week ago to-day, on the tub-built two-masted schooner Emma. S. B. Conroy, of Wilmington, whose wife was one of the ill-starred party, stated to a TIMES reporter last night that he has entered suit for $1500 for damages. Mr. Conroy tells a straight story which corresponds with what the reporter learns outside, only fuller in detail. The story of the experience of those twenty-nine passengers as told by Mr. Conroy and members of the party (the latter by letter) is a shameful one. They left Catalina on the Emma Tuesday; and at 9 o'clock the same night were within a mile of Catalina. The two sailors, who are said to be very competent men, advised that the anchor be dropped, so that they could get in in the morning. But the Captain ordered them below, and devoted himself to his dulcines. In the morning the Emma had drifted far away, and she kept on drifting. When the news reached San Pedro that she had arrived at Catalina, the steamer Warrior, the yacht Ida and the sloop Judge set out to the rescue. The Judge found the Emma at last, 28 miles away from Timms's landing, Catalina. The passengers—out of the 29 there were but 7 men, the rest being women and children—were in a pitiable plight, until finally taken off by false rumors boats and carried to Timms's landing. They were obliged to pay from $1 to $2 apiece for this service. Previous to this they had been obliged to get water and provisions from the island by boats, the water being rowed nine miles. They had to pay for this, too. All were sick from the wretched experience. When they at last reached Timms's landing, they had been seventy-four hours afloat, most of the time on short rations of food and water. They are all at the island now, refusing to have anything more to do with Captain Hurst or the Emma. They will return to-morrow on the Ida. It is declared that Captain Hurst is a lubber, discourteous and avaricious; and that his boat not only lacks all conveniences of decency, but is unseaworthy. Among the passengers on the disastrous excursion were: Mrs. J. T. O'Hara, Mrs. J. N. Fox, Mrs. S. B. Conroy, Wm. Hawks, wife and son, Mrs. S. J. Moore and daughter, W. W. Fowler, J. H. Heffner, wife and daughter.

Capt. Hurst called at the TIMES office yesterday (his boat having been towed into San Pedro by the Judge) to say that he was becalmed but finally got out; and that the Emma is a good boat. The weight of evidence thus far is a good deal against him and his craft; but if the Captain will bring in a testimonial from his late passengers that they had a pleasant trip and were well treated, the TIMES will take pleasure in publishing it.

THE "BREECHES BIBLE."

A Copy of a Rare Edition of the Seventeenth Century.

Peter Taylor, who resides near Park station, exhibited at the TIMES office yesterday a great curiosity in the shape of a "Breeches Bible," published in Edinburgh in 1615, during the reign of King James the First. The nick-name applied to this edition was given on account of the use of the word "breeches" for "aprons" in chapter 3, verse 7 of the Book of Genesis. The verse reads as follows in the Breeches Bible:

"Then the eyes of them both were opened and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed figgetree leaves together and made themselves breeches."

Copies of this edition of the bible are exceedingly rare and are valued at a very high figure by antiquarians. Mr. Taylor has been offered one hundred guineas for the copy in his possession, the last one worth from $700 to $1000. In it are to be found the names of his ancestors who lived in East Lothian and Midlothian, Scotland. Among the signatures on the family record are the following, dating a century ago: Elizabeth Showard, Peter Taylor and five children, Peter Taylor, Janet Brown, Wm. Taylor, August 3, 1789; George Taylor, July 21, 1791; Peter Taylor, October 10, 1793; Margaret Taylor, April 12, 1796; Gressell Taylor, August 20, 1798, Janet Taylor, 1804.

The old Bible is well printed and was bound in a very substantial manner. In the front there is a poem made up from passages of scripture. It is given as an interesting specimen of the quaint style of the seventeenth century.

Here is the spring where waters flow
To quench our heat of sinne.
Here is the Tree where Truth doth grow,
To leade our lives therein.
Here is the Food that feeds the strife,
When mens desires failie.
Here is the Bread that feeds the life
That death cannot assaile.
The Tidings of Salvation deare,
Come to our Eares from heare.
The Fortresse of our faith is here,
And Shield to our defence.
Then be not like the hogge that hath
A Pearl in his dunghill found,
And takes more pleasure of the trough
And wallowing in the mire
Inside not this book in any case
But with a single eye,
Reade not but first desire God's grace
To Understand thereby,
Pray still in faith with this respect
To fructifie thereby,
That knowledge may bring this effect
To mortifie thy sinne
Then happy then is all thy life
What so on thee befallies
Yea doubly happy shalt thou be
When God by death thee calls.

A RICH COUNTY.

Statement of Auditor Montano for 1884-5.

The following statement was filed by County Auditor Montaño yesterday. The statement is made up from the assessment book of County Assessor Bilderrain, "after correction or equalization by the Board of Supervisors, exclusive of apportionment of railroads by the State Board of Equalization." The notable and surprising thing about this statement is the fact that the total assessment is twelve hundred thousand dollars less than the figures of last year, notwithstanding the well-known advance in property values in both city and county.

MR. WELLS'S LITTLE SERMONS.

XII.

On Sunday, August 16th, before the sermon, Mr. Wells said:

As usual, I am to preach the first sermon, although this time some one else will preach the second.

I want to announce beforehand that I am to talk to the boys and girls, because they are scattered here and there in every part of the church. And I want them all to hear, as much as though they were crowded together on the front seats.

Don't forget the text when you get home. It is this: "Thy gentleness hath made me great."

David said that. Do you think it is true? Can gentleness make anybody great? Does not gentleness weaken folks? Look at the fields, with their grass and flowers, their great trees, with strong trunks and wide-spread branches. What lifted these from the earth, and gave them their beauty and strength? Was it the strong wind, the hurricane or tornado? No; it was the sunshine, the rain and the gentle dew.

In England is a great bridge, call ed Britannia bridge, made of iron, something like a stove-pipe, only it is square instead of round, and is many feet high and wide. When heavy loads pass over this bridge they cannot bend it because it is so strong. But if the soft sunshine falls on it for one hour, the iron expands, and the great bridge is moved from its line as a hundred tons weight could not move it. Did you know the sunshine was so strong?

I have in my yard a tree, a beautiful little camphor tree. By and by it will be a fine large tree. What will make it large? Can a storm do it, so that I can sit under it and enjoy the shade? Not at all. Over on the other side of the yard is a sweet little rosebud. Can a hor
